Likes Alberta

Samuel Egelson of Milton, North Dakota, was here last week looking over his holdings four miles south west of Carlstadt. He was much pleased with prospects and expects to buy more land here next year. This was his first visit to the Busy Burg in a year and he was very optimistic as to the future of the town. While here, he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leah Armstrong.

Farmers Know a Good Thing

Large numbers of farmers and homesteaders from the outlying districts are in town every day, and the Busy Burg merchants and business men are on the jump early and late. There's a reason. The homesteaders know that good prices for their grain and livestock in what they now call "the busy burg" await them in Carlstadt.

Falls Report

There is no truth in the report that Jas. Egan had sold out and was leaving. "Quite satisfied" right here, says he.

Purchased Violin

One of the biggest violin sales in Alberta occurred last week in Carlstadt, when J. W. Blanchard purchased from Benjamin the violin of W. A. Lale, a Johan Glass (S. rad-svarius model) instrument. The new violin is a beauty and produces a rich tone. Mr. Blanchard is a violinist.

A Fine Entertainment

It was a large and expectant audience which gathered at the Methodist church last Saturday to listen to the entertainment furnished by Miss Angela Gibson and Miss Ruth Cooper, of North Dakota. And it was a gratified and delighted crowd that two hours later, dispersed. The reason? The gayest entertainment it has been Carlstadt's happiness to enjoy. The young ladies are artists, and their sparkling recitation called for sincere after encore. A still larger crowd will doubtless be present, should they give a return engagement soon. Monday evening they were in Salfeld, where we understand they were also greeted by a large audience. The affair here was under the auspices of the Ladies Aid.

Correction

To the editor of The Carlstadt News: In your issue of Nov. 21st under the heading "Early Closing" Not Much. You are in error on which is not quite true, and which to my mind is a "blow below the belt."

You say that "A pavement backed by the progress people of Carlstadt to close the stores at 7 o'clock p. m. during the winter months except Saturdays, failed to go through. J. Coffin, being the stumbling block, he not agreeing to the proposition."

Now Sir, I emphatically say that I did not refuse to close my store during the winter season at 7 p. m. What I did object to was early closing during the month of December. I told Mr. Rowley when he called on me with the petition that, if he would make it Jan. 1st instead of Dec. 1st I would agree to it. I gave as my reason that, this being the busy season of the year, the farmers were hauling their grain to town, many of them coming long distances. It was up to us, the store keepers, to show them some consideration, and allow them ample time to do their trading without rushing them. This is only fair to both to ourselves and to the public. John Coffin.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Rural Municipalities

On next Monday two rural municipalities in the Carlstadt district will have their meeting for nominations to the office of councillors. Kings, which is in the Haskia territory, and Sunny South, which extends east to Salfeld and south as far as the river, are the municipalities referred to. Notices of these meetings will be found in another column. That these municipalities properly offered with good men are a help to the country in getting good roads, bridges, etc., is beyond a doubt. Organizing does not add a large tax on the homesteaders as many think. It simply keeps that tax money at home for the improvement of the district as organized.

Good Men Needed

As the time for nomination and subsequent elections draws nearer, interest in the councillor race grows. Carlstadt has been especially fortunate the past year in the matter of having good men as city fathers, and the need of councillors of integrity and business executive for 1913 is just as great. -- or greater. The welfare of the town collectively and individually depends upon their actions. Too much care in the matter of choosing men of ability can not be exercised. Three men are to be elected. Of the present councillors, we understand that Fred F. Rowatt and W. G. Salfeld stand for re-election. A. J. Drummond, who has noted in the capacity of mayor during the past year most acceptably has made no statement as yet.

The main duty of the new council will be to do something, or in other words, follow the progressive policy which has characterized the regime of the present council. A town should be arranged if at all possible. Improvements are required and will take financing. The town should have a publicity policy and follow it up. Only progressive should be on the 1913 council.

The columns of The News are open to signed letters expressing your views upon the important subject.

Walked Thirty Miles

Most people would hesitate before walking thirty miles to attend a convention. We know of at least a few who would. But J. Ray Allen, teacher of the Tide Creek school, is not among that number. He enjoys it immensely. On last Wednesday he received word of the teacher's convention to be held in Medicine Hat on Thursday and Friday. Early Thursday morning he set out for Carlstadt, and reached here in the afternoon. The time he was on the road was six and one half hours--or an average of about four and one half miles per hour. Saturday he returned to Carlstadt from the Hat and soon set out on his thirty-mile walk home, carrying a suitcase and a pleasant smile.

To Relieve Grain Congestion

The Dominion Grain Commission is bending every effort to assist the farmers, and is co-operating with the railways to relieve the congestion. Mr. E. Gordon, Inspector for Alberta, was here on Monday, and in an interview with The News stated that they now have the situation pretty well in hand. It may be expected that conditions soon will be on the upward way and that (possibly in a few days--most assuredly in a few weeks) grain prices will be back to the normal and the farmers and grain buyers again will have that "pleasant smile."

Notice

This store will close at eight o'clock every evening except Saturday during the winter.

The Wise Man vs. The Fool

There are many methods of acquiring wealth.

The Wise Man will invest his dollars in something that has good foundation, solid foundation--something that shows respectability. The Wise man will hold tight to his dollars and say "Show Me." If you can show him he invests at once.

THE OTHER MAN buys any place--and then finds that he has made a poor buy.

WESTERN CANADA'S DAY

This has been referred to as Canada's Century.

In Western Canada we use no such general term.

This is Western Canada's century, decade, year, month, week, and day. With the passing of each twenty-four hour period, new business blocks and houses are under construction, new lines of railroad have pushed on a little further, and each day is brighter than the one preceding.

There is no safer or surer investment today than lands or towns in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

SIX YEARS

With every effort strained toward "service for the Farmer" has put us far in the lead of all others and today, as fellow farmers, 12,000 of us are proud to be able to offer you, through our organization, the Grain Growers' Grain Co., "Our service in your behalf."

You can, through us, put your grain on the Central markets for sale at a cost of 1c per bushel. It is poor business on your part to let someone else get more from you for service not so good.

We have given satisfaction to thousands in the selling of their crop.

28,000,000 bushels handled in 1911-1912 crop compared to 2,500,000 handled in 1906-7 crop needs

As We See It.

Carlstadt is one of the few towns in Southern Alberta that did not have any cases of typhoid fever this fall.

The above is a brief statement, but a significant one. Common sense exercised in the matter of refuse, and a watchful council are responsible in a measure, and Carl-stadt's unlimited supply of good pure water also filled its mission.

To-day, no province in Canada is advancing at the same rate as the province of Alberta. To any one who can read the signs of the times it must be evident that Alberta will be long, be the scene of a gigantic land boom. The man who is holding down land in Alberta at the present nominal price, is the investor who will make the fortune in the coming land values. Five years from now, the man in Alberta who didn't buy when the opportunity was open, and who doesn't own land will be an unfortunate. Remember those sad words "It might have been."

The Brooks Bulletin says: "Carl-stadt is soon to have a local telephone system. Then they will be holding for gas." Correct. How did they guess it?

Quick Action

A week ago last Tuesday night the City Bakery suffered a slight damage from fire, caused by the explosion of a lamp. This property is insured in The Occidental Fire Insurance Co., through their agents England & England of Carlstadt.

On Wednesday morning, Mr. Leonard and the insured, filed a claim with the agents for loss sustained which chiefly consisted of bread being damaged by water and smoke.
This claim was immediately communicated to the General Agent for The Occidental Fire Insurance Co. at Calgary, who immediately returned check in favor of Mr.
Leonard for the full amount of the claim. Needless to say, Mr. Leonard was greatly surprised when on Friday Mr. Leonard handed him a check in full of his claim for loss suffering only three days before.
This we believe is a record for promptness and despatch in settling a fire loss in Carlstadt or district.

Better Than The Best

While it is generally admitted
The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal, is the best family and farmer's weekly paper printed, the Publishers are determined to make it still better. They are sparing no expense to give their subscribers of 1913 bigger value than ever. Their beautiful picture, "Mother's Treasures", is a delicious subject for the home and it is safe to say that no one who receives a copy would part with it for double the money.

No mistake can be made in sending one dollar for that great weekly paper for 1913. Every subscriber gets the picture, "Mother's Treasures", size 28x22 inches, free. It is the biggest dollar worth offered to-day.

What is considered by everyone to have been the best dance given this fall was held in the Suffield Hall last Thursday the 21st inst. A large number of friends from Carlstadt and the outlying districts attended. The music, supplied by Messrs. Johnson & Blanchard gave good satisfaction, the music being new and up to date. The bit of the program being the "I wish I was in Dixie" two step. The refreshments were up to the usual high standard supplied by the Suffield ladies. George Smiley made an efficient floor manager.

PRESENTATION AT CLARKSON'S.
The evening of Friday, Nov. 17, was pleasantly spent at the home of J. W. Clarkson eleven miles south of town, when several of the members of the community gathered to do honor to one who has won the respect of all. Since the Methodist Church opened service in the community, she has willingly opened her home for the benefit of her neighbors, and her kindness has been appreciated by those who have availed themselves of the privilege. It was thought however that the church could serve a greater number of people by moving the place for service into the middle of the township, so on Sunday, Nov. 17, the service was opened in the home of George Hargreaves.

To show their appreciation of Mrs. Clarkson's kindness a number of her friends and neighbors planned a surprise. About eight o'clock the service was opened. The evening was spent in music and games of various kinds, and all thoroughly enjoyed themselves. At the close of a dainty luncheon Mrs. McLeod read the following address, and a handsome berry belt was presented by Mrs. L. H. McKinnon.

Dear Mrs. Clarkson:—

We, a few of your friends and neighbors, have gathered together to express our great appreciation of your kindness toward us, since a service has been held in our community. You have always shown us interest in our well-being and welcomed to your home to join in a public place for our goal. Now since the circumstances necessitate our moving to a more opportune point, we feel we cannot do so without expressing to you our sincerest gratitude for your kind favors. We therefore ask you to accept this present, as a slight token of our appreciation, and hope that your

Stepmothers

The statement was made for a third class of an innocent in London that stepmothers are instinctively cruel to stepchildren.

A false accusation. The American who reads it will recall at once the boyhood of Abraham Lincoln. He had a stepmother. Night after night she used to take him upon her knee to the rude frontier cabin and teach him to read by the flickering light of a dry log. She it was who, in spite of the suspicion of the father, scribbled and saved that Abner might go to school. No natural mother ever surpassed her as the guardian angel of a child.

Daily Bush Lincoln was not unique. There were other kind stepmothers in her time, and there are kind stepmothers today. The English doctor in the country notwithstanding.—Boston Globe.

The Turbine

The first steam turbine fitted vessel was constructed by the Hon. C. A. Parsons at his works at Newcastle-on-Tyne. The turbine, a small vessel, a hundred feet in length, made her first trip Nov. 4, 1904. The system rapidly developed, and in increased speed of the vessels fitted with turbine engines and the economy effected in coal consumption were made in their construction, and today the turbine ship is popular the world over.

FALCONRY IN JAPAN.

An Expensive Sport. Requiring a Servant Man to Every Bird.

In the east falconry will be sport of kings. Talk of birds, the most generous of warriors, brought the sport to Japan with him from Korea, and some of the imperial hawks of today, they say, are descended from his descendants.

It is a costly sport, perhaps the emperor's greatest extravagance. At his orders and at his expense men learned to falconry have compiled a history of the art to the eastern world which fills a hundred volumes and the lawing establishment estimates heavy outlays.

There is a servant man to every hawk and a number of others who are hired to enter the service of the imperial bird. One gets an idea how extraordinarily these men are trained by seeing the assistant servants stand for hours at a time with outstretched hand, holding a glass of water, tilted to the wing.

It is only when they can do this, without fatigue and without spilling a drop of the water, that they are introduced with one of the precious birds, for it is the bird should give ever so little under the hawk he is started, and spreads his wings, which, according to Japanese ideas, is very undignified and interrupts his training as well as ends the career of the aspirant serving man.

But, though the wild ducks never become, what is still more remarkable is that they are never maimed or mangled. The hawk, whose claws and talons are kept wonderfully manicured and inspected every day by the chief hawkier, strikes his quarry's stunning blow and fearfully lunges them down to be retrieved, but not a drop of blood is shed.—Metropolitan Magazine.
